

Quiz 17- Reading and Writing Documentation

1. What is RDoc?

(This was discussed in lecture "Use RDoc to Generate Documentation")

- a. A Ruby version manager.
- b. A database connector for Ruby applications.
- c. An embedded Ruby template system.
- d. A documentation tool for Ruby.

Correct Answer: Option d – A documentation tool for Ruby.

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option b – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option c – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option d – Good job!

2. What symbol does Ruby documentation use to signify instance methods?

(This was discussed in lecture "Reading Documentation")

- a. Exclamation point (!)
- b. Hashtag (#)
- c. Double colon (::)
- d. Caret Symbol (^)

Correct Answer: Option b – Hashtag (#)

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option b – Good job!

Option c – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option d – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

3. What symbol does Ruby documentation use to signify class methods?

(This was discussed in lecture "Reading Documentation")

- a. Exclamation point (!)
- b. Hashtag (#)
- c. Double colon (::)
- d. Caret Symbol (^)

Correct Answer: Option c – Double colon (::)

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option b – Incorrect answer. Please try again.

Option c – Good job!

Option d – Incorrect answer. Please try again.